

SARA FOSTER

SHORT BIOGRAPHY

SARA FOSTER writes page-turning psychological suspense thrillers with strong female leads. Her forthcoming novel, When She Was Gone (April 2025), begins when an au pair and two small children vanish from a remote Australian beach, and the story explores themes around wealth, power and toxic masculinity.

Sara is also the author of the acclaimed dystopian thriller The Hush and six more bestselling psychological suspense novels: You Don't Know Me, The Hidden Hours, All That is Lost Between Us, Shallow Breath, Beneath the Shadows and Come Back to Me. Two of her novels have been optioned for television, and You Don't Know Me was adapted into a chart-topping drama podcast series by Listnr. Sara has a PhD in creative writing (studying maternal representations in fiction) and lives in Perth, Western Australia with her husband, two daughters, three cats and Sunny the bearded dragon.
